Join the Future of Biofabrication — in Latin America for the First Time

Biofabrication is redefining health, science, and technology — expanding its impact beyond healthcare into food, sustainability, and advanced materials.

For the very first time, the International Conference on Biofabrication will take place in Latin America, in Monterrey, Mexico — a historic milestone and a strategic opportunity for companies and institutions.

Mexico stands as a gateway to Latin America and a bridge to North America, giving you access to a unique market, emerging talent, and a vibrant community of innovators shaping the future of biofabrication.

The program will cover the latest advances in biomaterials, bioinks, and cutting-edge fabrication technologies, with workshops and sessions designed to spark collaboration and inspire new directions for the field.

Join us to share knowledge, build partnerships, and explore new opportunities! while experiencing the culture and innovation of Monterrey, Mexico's industrial and technological heart.

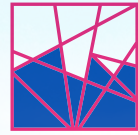

We look forward to welcoming you to Monterrey in 2026.

Why Exhibit at Biofabrication 2026

Showcase your innovations at the world's leading biofabrication event — coming to Latin America for the first time. Connect directly with a highly targeted audience of scientists, clinicians, entrepreneurs, educators, and industry leaders from across the globe.

Exhibiting at Biofabrication 2026 is your chance to build brand visibility, form meaningful partnerships, and reach those who can adopt, teach, and expand your solutions.

Located in Monterrey, Mexico, Latin America's innovation gateway, the conference offers access to one of the region's fastest-growing biotechnology markets and exceptional local talent.

Join us in shaping the future of biofabrication, and position your brand where innovation meets opportunity.

Conference Venue

Hosting Biofabrication 2026 in Monterrey, Mexico means placing innovation at the heart of Latin America's most dynamic industrial and technological hub.

Recognized for its entrepreneurial energy and global connectivity, Monterrey seamlessly blends tradition, culture, and cutting-edge science, making it the ideal gateway to emerging markets and talent across the region.

At the center of this ecosystem stands the Tecnológico de Monterrey, one of Latin America's most prestigious universities. Its state-of-the-art facilities—such as the Conference Center, Expedition Building, and Hub of Innovation—offer an inspiring environment for collaboration between academia, industry, and entrepreneurship.

Together, Monterrey and Tec de Monterrey provide a world-class setting that connects people, ideas, and technologies shaping the future of biofabrication.

Venue address:
Tecnológico de Monterrey – Campus Monterrey
Av. Eugenio Garza Sada 2501 Sur
Monterrey, Nuevo León, Mexico
